

Race, Sport, & Restorative Justice: Implications for Higher Education

Moderated by Ketra L. Armstrong, PhD

*Director, Center for Race & Ethnicity in Sport
Professor, Sport Management
University Diversity & Social Transformation Professor*

This webinar will feature a discussion with scholars on the manner in which race, the intercollegiate athletic enterprise, and the system of higher education intersect to impact Black student-athletes' experiences. The undercurrent for the discussion is based on one of the principles of the Black Lives Matter movement: restorative justice. Panelists include:

Albert Y. Bimper, Jr., PhD

Asst. VP, Sr. Assoc. Athletics Director
Assoc. Professor, Sport Management & African American Studies
Author, Black Collegiate Athletes & the Neoliberal State: Dreaming from Bended Knee
Colorado State University

Deniece Dortch, PhD

Visiting Asst. Professor, Higher Education Administration
Co-Founder, Sista to Sista
Scholar, Racism in Higher Education
The George Washington University

Joseph N. Cooper, PhD

Chair, Sport Leadership & Administration
Assoc. Professor, Leadership in Education
Author, From Exploitation Back to Empowerment: Black Male Holistic (Under)Development Through Sport & (Mis)Education
University of Massachusetts-Boston

Lori Latrice Martin, PhD

Professor, African American Studies & Sociology
Faculty Athletics Representative
Author, White Sports/Black Sports: Racial Disparities in Athletic Programs
Louisiana State University

Thursday, August 6
1:00–2:30pm EDT via Zoom
RSVP at myumi.ch/er09R