

ICPSR Data Fair 2022: ICPSR Stands for Data

Thursday, Sep 15: Virtual

12:00 PM - 12:50 PM

ICPSR Data Fair Attendee Orientation

Virtual

Annalee Shelton

Membership Experience Manager, ICPSR

Dory Knight-Ingram

Communications Specialist, ICPSR

Shelly Petrisko

Event Manager, Event Host Inc.

In preparation for the conference, please join us for an optional orientation session open to all attendees. The first part of this session will include a brief history of the Data Fair, a walkthrough of the PheedLoop system, and time for Q and A. The remaining time will be dedicated to informal socializing and networking.

Friday, Sep 16: Virtual

ICPSR Data Fair Exhibit Hall Live! Join us in the Exhibit Hall and Networking area

Exhibit Hall

Exhibit Hall

Annalee Shelton

Membership Experience Manager, ICPSR

Shelly Petrisko

Event Manager, Event Host Inc.

Join us live in the exhibit booths to ask questions and learn more about our archives, projects, and departments. This session will take place in the Exhibit Hall and Networking sections of PheedLoop. Chat with anyone in the booth using the chat feature on the right-hand side. Chat with a staff member using the Start Chat button under their name. Find videos, flyers, data access instructions, and more in the Exhibit Hall. Visit the Networking section to meet live via video with ICPSR staff from our archives and projects. Select "Groups" from the options at the top of the networking ...

Monday, Sep 19: Virtual

11:00 AM - 11:31 AM

Encouraging Learning Through Measured Results: The Millennium Challenge Corporation Evidence Platform

Virtual

Amy Pienta

Research Professor, ICPSR

During this presentation, the speaker will showcase and demonstrate the new Millennium Challenge Corporation (MCC) Evidence Platform. The presentation will highlight the Evidence Platform's advanced search functionality, designed to make accessing evidence for MCC's global poverty alleviation programs accessible and easy to use. The presentation will describe the type of data and knowledge products available on the evidence platform and how researchers and policy-makers benefit from the transparency of MCC's program evidence provided by this platform.

Monday, Sep 19: Virtual

12:00 PM - 12:50 PM

Statistics and Data Analysis Methods with the ICPSR Summer Program

Virtual

Scott Campbell

Communications Coordinator, ICPSR, ICPSR Summer Program

Stephanie Carpenter

Program Manager, ICPSR Summer Program

For 59 of the 60 years that ICPSR has existed, the ICPSR Summer Program in Quantitative Methods of Social Research has been the main educational component of the consortium. Today the program welcomes 1000 participants every year from institutions near and far, from all types of backgrounds: undergraduate to faculty, introductory to advanced. We have just the course for anyone at your institution, and scholarships too!

Monday, Sep 19: Virtual

01:00 PM - 01:40 PM

Do You See What I See? An Introduction to Using ICPSR Data with Common Data Visualization Tools

Virtual

Lynette Hoelter

Archivist, ICPSR

It seems everyone has a favorite data visualization tool these days! Did you ever wonder how you could use ICPSR with some of those tools? This session will provide an overview of what to look for in ICPSR data when choosing a dataset to visualize; the steps that might be needed to go from the file you downloaded to the input needed for tools like Tableau Public, Infogram, and Datawrapper; and some general tips and tricks. This isn't a session about what makes a good visualization – we will point you to some other sources for that information – but ...

Monday, Sep 19: Virtual

02:00 PM - 02:26 PM

From 1978 to 2022: Expanding NACJD Data and Classroom Resources

Virtual

Alexandra (Alex) Toma

Data Project Manager, ICPSR

Annahita Akbarifard

Data Project Assistant, ICPSR

Becky Chu

Data Project Manager - NACJD, ICPSR

Join the National Archive of Criminal Justice Data (NACJD) team to learn about the origin of ICPSR's criminal justice archive and how we have evolved over time. We will highlight the resource and learning guides available to researchers, and discuss how and when to use NACJD data in the classroom.

Monday, Sep 19: Virtual

03:00 PM - 03:28 PM

PEERS Data Hub: Your One-Stop-Shop for STEM Education Research!

Virtual

Amber Bryant

Project Manager, ICPSR, PEERS Data Hub

The Partnership for Expanding Education Research in STEM (PEERS) Data Hub is a "one-stop-shop" for all you need to do education research. This presentation walks you through the benefits and resources offered through the PEERS Data Hub and how they can work to help you reach your research goals.

Tuesday, Sep 20: Virtual

11:00 AM - 11:44 AM

The COVID-19 US State Policy Database

Virtual

Julia Raifman

Assistant Professor, Boston University School of Public Health

Tracking state policies to prevent the spread of COVID and reduce economic hardship since March 2022. This presentation will reference the following study: COVID-19 US State Policy Database (<https://www.openicpsr.org/openicpsr/project/119446/version/V143/view>)

Tuesday, Sep 20: Virtual

12:00 PM - 12:49 PM

ICPSR State of the Consortium

Virtual

Margaret Levenstein

Director, ICPSR

Join ICPSR Director, Margaret Levenstein, for an update on the state of ICPSR! This session will be part reflection on the Consortium's past 60 years, but importantly, will provide attendees an overview of where ICPSR is headed in the near term. The session will cover the modernization of the ICPSR software platform and the creation of new data archives researchers can use to access, organize, analyze and contribute different types of research data as a result of the NSF-funded Research Data Ecosystem (RDE), new projects including SOMAR: The Social Media Archive at ICPSR, continuing data projects, new leadership and program ...

Tuesday, Sep 20: Virtual

01:00 PM - 01:37 PM

An Introduction to the Social Media Archive (SOMAR)

Virtual

Alison Sweet

Senior Data Project Manager, ICPSR

David Thomas

Sr. Data Project Manager, ICPSR

The speaker will introduce the new Social Media Archive (SOMAR) during this presentation. The presentation will highlight the data and resources to be available to students and scholars around the world to help conduct research about the phenomenon of social media use; its impacts on social, political, and psychological processes; and the views and behaviors of social media use. The speaker will also talk about data access in a new cloud-based VDE, the application and data dissemination processes, and finally, the data science consulting and support SOMAR will provide.

Tuesday, Sep 20: Virtual

02:00 PM - 02:33 PM

Child and Family Data Archive (CFData): A place for researchers, educators, and policymakers to find and use data related to early care and education

Virtual

Vrinda Mahishi

Data Project Manager, ICPSR

The Child and Family Data Archive (CFData) preserves and disseminates hundreds of datasets on topics related to young children, their families and communities, and the programs that serve them. This presentation will give an overview of archive with an emphasis on CFData's web-based tools, including how to search for studies, variables, and publications on the website; how to access the data and documentation; and other resources and support available for researchers, educators, policy analysts, and other experts who conduct research relevant to the field of early care and education.

Tuesday, Sep 20: Virtual

03:00 PM - 03:33 PM

Resource Center for Minority Data (RCMD): Informational Session

Virtual

Amber Bryant

Project Manager, ICPSR, PEERS Data Hub

Tyler Beltran

Data Project Assistant, ICPSR

The Resource Center for Minority Data is an initiative of the Inter-university Consortium for Political and Social Research (ICPSR) at the University of Michigan. Its main goal is to serve as a unifying platform for research, resources, and data related to race, ethnicity, sexual orientation, and minoritized communities. Join this presentation to learn about RCMD and the data resources we offer that help further research in race and minority studies.

Wednesday, Sep 21: Virtual

11:00 AM - 11:43 AM

Expanding the ICPSR Bibliography of Data-related Literature to study communities of data reuse

Virtual

Elizabeth Moss

Librarian, ICPSR

Sara Lafia

Research Fellow, ICPSR - University of Michigan

The ICPSR Bibliography of Data-related Literature is a resource linking social science studies to literature in which they have been used. Over the past year, Bibliography staff have experimented with automated methods to search for literature and detect references to ICPSR studies, resulting in the expansion of the Bibliography. This effort has been supported in part by an NSF grant studying the impact of data curation on research data reuse. This session will cover updates to the Bibliography's network and show how its citations are being analyzed to study communities of data reuse. You will learn about how resources from ...

Wednesday, Sep 21: Virtual

12:00 PM - 12:41 PM

Metadata & Preservation activities at ICPSR to make our data FAIR and TRUSTworthy

Virtual

Jared Lyle

Archivist | Director, Metadata and Preservation | Director, DDI Alliance, ICPSR, DDI Alliance

jay winkler

Assistant Archivist, ICPSR

Mike Shallcross

Associate Archivist, ICPSR

Learn about the activities coordinated by the ICPSR Metadata & Preservation unit – and implemented throughout ICPSR – that improve the FAIRness (Findable, Accessible, Interoperable, and Re-usable) of our data and TRUSTworthiness (Transparency, Responsibility, User focus, Sustainability and Technology) of our data repository. These activities align with several of the Desirable Characteristics for All Data Repositories recently outlined by both the White House's Office of Science and Technology Policy and the U.S. National Institutes of Health (the largest biomedical research agency in the world), including: Unique Persistent Identifiers: ICPSR datasets are assigned a citable, unique persistent identifier (DOI) to support ...

Wednesday, Sep 21: Virtual

01:00 PM - 01:30 PM

Introducing the Qualitative Data Sharing (QDS) Project Series

Virtual

Sara Britt

Data Project Manager, ICPSR

The speakers will introduce the new Qualitative Data Sharing (QDS) Project Series during this presentation. The presentation will highlight the data and resources available and forthcoming on de-identifying and sharing qualitative data on health topics. The speakers will also talk about the development of specific QDS guidelines and pipelines for data de-identification, deposit, and sharing.

Wednesday, Sep 21: Virtual

02:00 PM - 02:33 PM

Curation Now and Then: A Look at the Past, Present, and Future of Data Curation at ICPSR

Virtual

Ben Dougherty

Data Curator, ICPSR

Gin Corden

Lead Data Curator, ICPSR

Meg Jerrild

Data Curator, ICPSR

Robert Choate

Lead Curator, ICPSR

Data curation at ICPSR has grown and evolved throughout the years. Curation industry best practices are changed and implemented as the technological landscape advances. Now more than ever, handling different data types properly and efficiently has become a necessity. The development and growth of the ICPSR's Data Curation Unit's standards and processes will be discussed, as we continue to adapt to meet the needs of our members, funding institutions, and the larger research community.

Wednesday, Sep 21: Virtual

03:00 PM - 03:28 PM

Ten Reasons to Deposit Data with DSDR

Virtual

John Marcotte

DSDR Project Director, ICPSR

Data Sharing for Demographic Research (DSDR) is a National Institute of Child Health and Human Development (NICHD) supported repository that advances research in health and population dynamics. DSDR provides access to data for secondary analysis to study critical issues related to maternal and child health, health disparities, the human lifecycle, and international comparisons. During this presentation, project staff will show how DSDR supports researchers in depositing data. The presentation will cover deposit options, available tools, and highlight studies on underserved populations.

Health and Medical Care Archive (HMCA) - Data and Available Resources

Virtual

Tyler Beltran

Data Project Assistant, ICPSR

Tye will talk about the Health and Medical Care Archive (HMCA) at ICPSR. His presentation will highlight the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation funded data and other resources available on the HMCA website. He will also present examples of recent outreach efforts, including the HMCA Summer Program Workshop and National Neighborhood Data Archive (NaNDA) webinar.

Thursday, Sep 22: Virtual

12:00 PM - 12:44 PM

Overview of Data and Other Resources Available at the National Addiction & HIV Data Archive Program (NAHDAP)

Virtual

Chelsea Samples-Steele

Senior Data Project Manager, ICPSR

Jen Koski

NAHDAP and PATH Study Project Assistant, ICPSR

During this presentation, the speakers will give an overview of the National Addiction & HIV Data Archive Program (NAHDAP) archive at ICPSR. The presentation will highlight data collections on drug use, addiction, and HIV available at NAHDAP and will also provide guidance for researchers wishing to archive data with NAHDAP. The speakers will also highlight educational and training resources that are available on the NAHDAP website.

Thursday, Sep 22: Virtual

01:00 PM - 01:30 PM

Population Assessment of Tobacco and Health (PATH) Study - Data Overview, History, and Available Resources

Virtual

Alison Sweet

Senior Data Project Manager, ICPSR

Michal Kirkwood

Data Project Manager, ICPSR

Sara-Lu Srygley

Data Project Manager, ICPSR

During this presentation, the speakers will talk about the Population Assessment of Tobacco and Health (PATH) Study at ICPSR. The presentation will highlight the PATH Study data available via the National Addiction and HIV Data Archive Program (NAHDAP) archive and the growth of the PATH Study series since its first release on the NAHDAP website in 2015. The speakers will also present examples of research done with the PATH Study and educational resources available to the PATH Study data users.

Thursday, Sep 22: Virtual

02:00 PM - 02:24 PM

An introduction to the Patient-Centered Outcomes Data Repository (PCODR)

Virtual

Sara Britt

Data Project Manager, ICPSR

The speakers will introduce the relatively new Patient-Centered Outcomes Data Repository (PCODR) during this presentation. The presentation will highlight the data and resources to be available to researchers around the world to encourage scientifically rigorous secondary use of the Patient-Centered Outcomes Research Institute (PCORI) funded clinical research data to foster scientific advances and ultimately improve clinical care and patient outcomes. The speakers will also talk about the development of an Independent Review Committee and the transparency of posting approved secondary data use applications on the PCODR website.

Thursday, Sep 22: Virtual

03:00 PM - 03:47 PM

Membership in ICPSR: More Than Just Data

Virtual

Annalee Shelton

Membership Experience Manager, ICPSR

Linda Detterman

Membership & Communications Director, ICPSR

What does it mean in 2022 and beyond to be a member of ICPSR? Join ICPSR staff as they describe the benefits (and tools) of membership, and provide brief orientations to ICPSR data, services, and training. Future-envisioned and made possible by the current modernization of ICPSR's software platform. Current, new, and institutions exploring membership will benefit from this session, so please share/refer others who are inspired by data and those sharing it!

ICPSR Data Fair Member Hour

Virtual

Annalee Shelton

Membership Experience Manager, ICPSR

Linda Detterman

Membership & Communications Director, ICPSR

Join us for an informal hour to discuss your questions about membership in ICPSR. Staff members will be on hand to answer questions about joining ICPSR, promoting data and resources at your campus or institution, and more. Your questions are welcome, please use the chat function to add questions prior to the session start.

Real life examples using the DDI metadata standard to document variable comparability across studies

Virtual

Sanda Ionescu

Metadata Specialist Senior, ICPSR - University of Michigan

The use of structured, machine-actionable metadata is essential to increasing the Findability, Accessibility, Interoperability and Reuse of digital data collections. As a strong supporter of the FAIR data principles, ICPSR consistently uses the Data Documentation Initiative (DDI) metadata standard to describe its collections, both at study and at variable level. In this presentation, we will focus on the way we have been using the DDI-Lifecycle standard to describe longitudinal or time-series studies. Based on real-life examples from the metadata created for several projects supported by the NACDA Program on Aging topical archive, we will demonstrate the advantages of using the DDI-Lifecycle standard for documenting variable comparability across datasets. ...

The Social, Behavioral, and Economic COVID Consortium: Preliminary Findings from the First Year

Virtual

John Kubale

Project Director, SBE CCC, ICPSR

Megan Chenoweth

Data Project Manager, SBE CCC, ICPSR

ICPSR's Social, Behavioral, and Economic COVID Coordinating Center (SBE CCC) is a communication and collaboration hub for scholars undertaking social, behavioral, and economic research on COVID-19. SBE COVID consortium members come from a range of fields including demography, epidemiology, medicine, sociology, economics. Through their research, they are exploring the myriad ways in which Americans' lives have been impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic – such as access to health care and education, unemployment, substance use, interpersonal relationships, and mortality – with a particular focus on disparities based on race, gender/gender identity, income, and locale (e.g. urbanicity, neighborhood disadvantage, etc.). In this session, ...

ICPSR Data Brunch Live! The Democratization of Data / Data Fair Closing Remarks

Introducing the Research Data Ecosystem

Virtual

Annalee Shelton

Membership Experience Manager, ICPSR

Dory Knight-Ingram

Communications Specialist, ICPSR

Elyssa Daniel

Product Marketing Manager - Outreach and Education, ICPSR

Jeannette Jackson

Managing Director, Research Data Ecosystem

Scott Campbell

Communications Coordinator, ICPSR, ICPSR Summer Program

How do people access data? Not just researchers... what about journalists? Think tank employees? Retail managers? Grandparents? We want everyone to have access to data, but what does that really mean? If everyone has access to data, what does that mean in terms of getting people to actually see it? The Research Data Ecosystem will make research data accessible to broaden participation in the frontiers of scientific research. Join us for a conversation about the future of data access. This is a live recording of ICPSR's popular Data Brunch podcast, about the stories behind data.
